

“Sublette County School District Number Nine has devoted a large amount of time and resources in the area of curriculum development over the past 20 years. For a number of reasons including, but not limited to, staff turnover, changes in federal and state mandates/guidelines, and political demands we continued a cycle that provided a finished product that most closely resembled disjointed incrementalism. Our four year association with CLI has enabled us to finally make consistent strides in developing a curriculum. We now have a curriculum process that has a direction, is research based, consistent and is focused on student learning. As a small district I believe our association with CLI is one of the better decisions we have made. The processes we now follow to make decisions under their guidance is beyond reproach and puts us in compliance with the demands of accreditation.”
